NO FALSE PROMISES

No active worker in the Infinite Way should have anything to do with false promises along the lines of "Come join our club then...." And then make a thousand and one beautiful promises that, of course, can never be fulfilled.

Submitting your problem to the practitioner and sitting back doing nothing yourself.... that's not how it works in The Infinite Way.

If you turn to a practitioner in The Infinite Way, you are also expected to cooperate. Just go with the idea "Well you know, practitioner, my problem" and only think "how do I get rid of this... . However understandably... reactions like "I want to be healed", "I want to get rid of that pain" ... etc. will offer you no comfort. On the contrary they will attach you even more to the so-called problem of which you wish to get rid of.

When you're in pain it's damn hard...but try as much as you can to forget your problem and cooperate to the best of your knowledge and ability, meditate and pray together with the practitioner then "success" depends on the state of consciousness of the practitioner AND your own state of consciousness and receptivity. Yes... Joel would say: "that's tough” ...yes... it is tough ... but.... It is a blessing. Why is it a blessing? You would say:

“What is so blessing about my having pain.. why must I suffer that much... is that really Gods Blessing? I doubt it”
etc. etc.

Such a reaction if completely understandably but strange as it may sound to you, your problems bless you. Because of the problems you have more opportunity to go deeper into yourself and to rise higher in Consciousness in order to become detached from yourself, etc.

If you really don't succeed, you can always turn to God with e.g.:

“Father, help me, I cannot solve this problem, YOU know all the ins and outs of me. YOU know that my intentions are sincere and honest and that I want to know YOU even more than now. Enlighten me, Father, give me YOUR Strength and YOUR Wisdom. Reveal YOURSELF, oh Lord... Speak, Lord, YOUR Servant heareth.”

And then try to be still, not to think about anything. It really shouldn't take long. A few minutes is enough enabling you to tear yourself away from “this world” - at least for a moment. In that moment you allow God to rush in and take over.

Also study the Monthly Letter February 1958 “Problems are no problems anymore” I say it several times in my website and I myself speak from – sometimes bitter – experience.

The wonderful meditation on God - only God - will help you too. Click on powermed in order to let go of yourself forgetting “this world” and immersing yourself into the Spirit.

You may find this very helpful, uplifting and inspiring.

As you see: NO false promises but help and helpful advices as it should be.
